

IILM UBS students going to the University of Bradford

As a part of Bradford Scholarship Program, six IILM Undergraduate Business School students have an opportunity to attend University of Bradford, U.K. The students would be accompanied by UBS IILM faculties. The exchange program serves a great platform for students to widen their horizon and enrich their experiences. The students selected would attend the School of Management, University of Bradford for a month. Starting from November 2007, it is a lifetime experience for the students. They get an opportunity to interact with the Bradford faculty and students. The international exposure enables students to widen their horizon and explore newer avenues for their growth.

In the past many students have been to the School of Management, University of Bradford. The students have to go through a rigorous interview before being selected for the month long visit to the University of Bradford. Following the trend this year as well, the below-mentioned students have been selected to visit the School of Management, University of Bradford.
